

Interview Questions: Weapons Management

Introductory Questions

- What is your name?
- What is your current role title?
- What are your main responsibilities in this role?
- Have you occupied any other collections-oriented roles at the Royal Armouries?

Main Questions

- What limitations does the current framework of weapons regulation place on the Armouries' work as the national museum of arms and armour?
- What additional procedures are you required to implement when managing the Armouries' weapons collections?
- How do professional standards of best practice and ethical conduct shape your approach to the management of the Armouries' weapons collections?
- How would you define the term 'access' in your capacity as a member of the Armouries' collections staff?
- How can the Armouries' approach to collections management be refined to better enable public engagement with its weapons holdings going forward?